Note: Percentages may not add up to 100% due to rounding.
In recent days the Chancellor of the Exchequer George Osborne has said that the UK Government would not share the pound with an independent Scotland in a currency union. The Scottish Government has said that sharing the pound would be in the interests of both an independent Scotland and the rest of the UK, and therefore a currency union will happen.

Have these statements on the pound changed how you will vote in the referendum?
